

Monsanto's Signature Merlot

"It's genetically modified so you know it's good for you."

GOVERNMENT WARNING: This only looks like a Government warning. Actually, we own enough congressmen that we don't have to warn anybody about anything.

Although not actually radioactive, our grapes have been subjected to enough genetic modifications to have a half-life comparable to Strontium-90. We take our grapes off the vines and put them directly into the bottle, touching them as little as possible for pretty obvious health reasons. But you needn't worry — we're Monsanto and we stand behind our products.
